BARRICAS
CABERNET SAUVIGNON

ARGENTINA

Barricas: These wines are produced with hand-harvested grapes from Tunuyan and Tupungato, Mendoza, one of Argentina's top wine regions. These fun and young wines are focused on balance, elegance and varietal typicity (accurate expression of each variety's characteristic aromas and flavors).

Tasting notes: Deep red color with gently spiced dark red fruits on the nose. The mouth is round with hints of vanilla and chocolate. Medium body and soft tannins make this Cabernet Sauvignon a perfect anytime wine.

Winemaker: Jose Hinojosa

Appellation: Uco Valley (Tunuyan), Mendoza, Argentina

Grapes: 100% Cabernet Sauvignon

Soil: Generally alluvial with a clay/rock base and sandy stony surface.

Elevation: 4,000 ft

Vineyard practice: Dry farming. Hand harvested.

Harvest Dates: March

Fermentation: Temperature controlled fermentation in stainless steel tanks and cement pools.

Aging: None

Alc: 12.5% UPC: 8 10148 01006 5

Tunuyan, Mendoza: Tunuyan is considered by most experts as one of the best regions in the world for growing Malbec grapes. At an altitude of 4000 feet, with pure and clean water from the Andes mountains, varieties like Cabernet Sauvignon and Malbec thrive producing excellent wines with expressive fruit and complex structure.
